Backend Developer

Yurii Makarenko

I have experience in Ruby and Ruby on Rails programming, using Git, Docker Compose, PostgreSQL. I know the HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, JavaScript basics, deployment in a Linux environment.

My achievements

- In one of these projects, he developed an integrated solution based on Ruby gem exchange between different CRM systems, using graphql and regular rest to auto exchange and analysis.
- Developed a Node.js API to control a smart home via Messenger, allowing him to a variety of devices, from smart light bulbs to security systems. Users could turn light and off, adjust the temperature, and receive notifications about events in the home through the chat. I used the MongoDB database to store the status of the devices. I implemented a user authentication system based on OAuth 2.0 to ensure security.

Personal qualities

- Conscientious in work, proactive.
- Communication skills to effectively collaborate with team members. Whenever there is a need for help, I'm excited to investigate issues and make debugging together.
- Constantly engaged in self-improvement, open for further training. Adapt to new technologies, frameworks, and methodologies as they evolve.
- Able to manage time effectively to meet deadlines and to work productively, focusing on the ultimate goals.
