Backend Developer

Yurii Makarenko

I have experience in Ruby and Ruby on Rails programming, using Git, Docker Compose, Heroku, PostgreSQL. I know the HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, JavaScript basics, deployment in a Linux environment.

My achievements

- In one of these projects, he developed an integrated solution based on Ruby gem for exchange between different CRM systems, using graphql and regular rest to automate exchange and analysis.
- Developed a Node.js API to control a smart home via Messenger, allowing him to manage a variety of devices, from smart light bulbs to security systems. Users could turn lights on and off, adjust the temperature, and receive notifications about events in the house through the chat. I used the MongoDB database to store the status of the devices. I implemented a user authentication system based on OAuth 2.0 to ensure security.

Personal qualities

- Conscientious in work, proactive.
- Communication skills to effectively collaborate with team members. Whenever the team needs help, I'm excited to investigate issues and make debugging together.
- Constantly engaged in self-improvement, open for further training. Adapt to new technologies, frameworks, and methodologies as they evolve.
- Able to manage time effectively to meet deadlines and to work productively, focusing on the ultimate goals.
